Editor’s Notes: We had a nice meeting at the Michigan State Show, the venue was excellent and I will discuss it more later in this issue. As a fund raiser, we are auctioning off a complete set of Rag Pickers, missing only Volume one, write to Secretary/Treasurer Dan Freeland to bid. Thirteen members were present for our 4:00 PM Saturday meeting which was conducted by President Karl Mark Paul. Rules for the Wallace Lee Exhibit were clarified and approved. To compete you must place a Paper Currency Exhibit of Michigan items. The Exhibit may contain tokens and other items, but must consist of 66% or more of paper items. For more info see President Karl’s column. Cliff Mishler was elected to an out of State board Member position...the vote was, not surprisingly unanimous.

OUR COVER: This month’s note features a rare $1 1935 Silver Certificate Mule Star, with only six graded at the present time. I met the owner, Riccee Vermuelen at Keith Bauman’s table at the Thanksgiving Michigan State Show. He found it in a Roseville, Michigan shop several years ago. Riccee won the PMG ultimate Silver Certificate set award recently and I am trying to recruit him as a member of PMCM.

CLUB NEWS: The Currency club of Chester County is a viable and healthy club that meets the third Thursday each month at 7:00 PM at the NE corner of Gay and Adams Streets in the borough Hall of West Chester, PA. Phone (610) 696-0435 Up coming programs include: January 17, Paul Saylor, to be announced; Feb. 21, Steve Perakis: The first Bank. If you live anywhere near it, this is a club to join.

BOOK OF THE MONTH is: Confederate States Paper Money. It is an update of the Slaybaugh book edited by George Cuhaj. Great historical information on Confederate Currency and Confederate States issued paper. I updated the prices. It is available from Krause Publications and just came out.

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN: KARL'S COMMENTS

MSNS SHOW

Great things happened at the recent Michigan State Numismatics Society Show held at the Macomb College Expo Center in Warren. Reports, surveys and stories from those persons who attended say "This is the best show MSNS has ever had"! This new venue was a challenge to the "Relocation Committee" who did a great job. The Mayor of Warren, Jim Fouts and his staff supported the show 1000%. Macomb College, where I once taught History, made history with the first ever coin and currency show. Dealers, MSNS Officers and Board members want to return appreciating the increased security, more floor space and better Educational exhibits, all located on the same floor. Stay tuned for further details.

THE LEE

The winner of the Dr. Wallace Lee Best of Show Award went to John Spohn of Saginaw for his exhibit of "Bank notes of Flint". Chief Judge was Cliff Mishler, with Dany Rothfeld and Karl Mark Pall. Thanks again to Cliff and Dany. We missed Mike Denny who has served as a judge in the past.

PMCM MEETING

Our Fall meeting brought no surprises. Reports and updates were given by Dan Freeland and KMP. I appointed Cliff Mishler to fill the out-of-state directors position. Cliff brings his knowledge and life time experience in numismatics to aid us in current and future pursuits. Dan Freeland, Bill Brandimore and I will work on needed changes in the PMCM by-laws and Constitution. If you have suggestions, please contact any of us.

EXHIBITS

I was honored to have been asked to put together a non-competitive 10 case exhibit on Macomb County Obsolete bank notes from the 1830's. The largest known collection of Macomb money featured: Lee. Bowen and Haxby plates, Uniques, and complete print runs for most banks.

Represented banks were: The Bank of Lake St. Clair, The Clinton Canal Bank, The Macomb County Bank at Mt Clemens and Tonawanda, New York, The Macomb and Saginaw Railroad, The Shelby and Detroit Rail Road, the Farmers Bank of Romeo and the St. Clair and Romeo Railroad.

A Macomb Money class was also part of the free Educational programs.

SPRING MSNS SHOW

Location of the Spring 2013 Show has not been finalized. Watch the Rag Picker for the new April dates.

MSNS ELECTION RESULTS

Congratulations go out to the following members who were elected to the Michigan State Numismatic Society: Al Bobrofsky, John Chirco, Steve Garvin, Karl Mark Pall, Dr. Andrew Parks, Joe Peruski and Dany Rothfeld. Julianna Wostyn was elected President and Brian Malnar, Vice President.

FALL 2013 LEE

Now is a good time to get a jump on the 2013 Lee award for Michigan paper. The 2012 exhibits were excellent and selecting the award was very, very close. Take the extra time for neatness, spelling and answer these questions for the viewers: Who, What, Why, Where, When and How. Also, think about Dr. Lee's commitment for furthering Michigan Paper, Scrip, Obsoletes and Nationals.

THE RAG PICKER

We need articles for the Rag Picker. Share your passion for collecting by telling us about your topic. Educate our membership with the knowledge you have gained by collecting. You can inform and share articles with Bill Brandimore, Rag Picker Editor. David Gelwicks articles on Upper Michigan Mining have provided information on many lost in time facts shared in his research.

HOLIDAY WISHES

The season of thankfulness, friends, family and giving is soon upon us... on behalf of the officers we wish you a very Merry Christmas or Happy Hanukah and a Safe and Healthy New Year.

Best.....Karl

CLUB NEWS:

The Currency Club of Chester County meets the third Thursday each month at 7:00 PM at the N.E. corner of Gay and Adams Streets in the Borough Hall of West Chester, PA. phone (610) 696-0435. Upcoming programs include: October 18 Pete Papadeas, "The Capitol Bank"; November 15 Dave Stitely, to be announced' December 15, The Christmas Party and Auction. Join this club if it is any where near you. The newsletter alone is worth the price of admission.

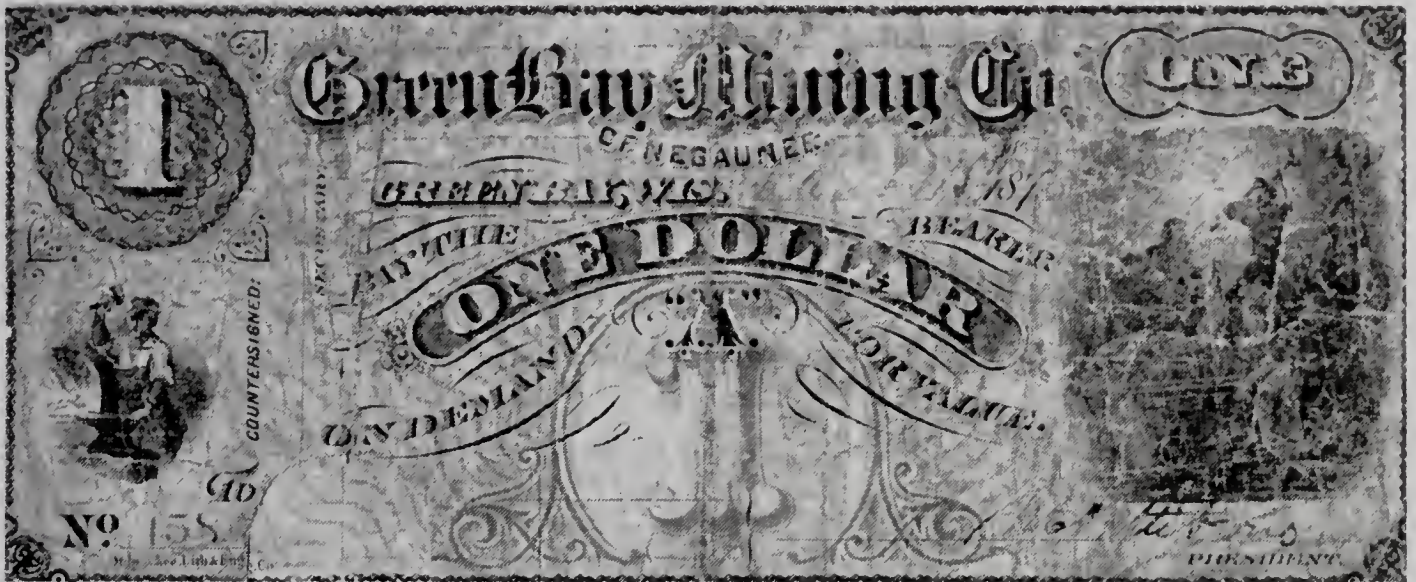

Green Bay Mining Co. of Negaunee

UP NORTH NOTES #3

By: Dave Gelwicks

The reason many of us collect and share our minimal knowledge of the Lake Superior iron and copper mining history is well defined in this 1905 quote:

“The beginnings, therefore, of this great iron industry are historically important and are of interest to every citizen in the United States, for there is not a man or woman today living who has not been, directly or indirectly, benefited by the great mineral wealth of the Lake Superior country and the labor of winning it and working it into the arts.... Has it not the elements in it out of which to weave the fabric of the great American novel so long expected and so long delayed? For the story is distinctly American. Indeed there is nothing more distinctly American.”

—Ralph Williams, in his biography of Marquette’s iron pioneer, The Honorable Peter White: A Biographical Sketch of the Lake Superior Iron Country (1905)

It is difficult to uncover many details about the Green Bay Mining Co., Negaunee, MI (with offices in Green Bay, WI) due to its short existence under this name. Lee reports 1872 incorporation and closing in 1878 capitalized with only $90,000. <sup>1</sup>

These notes show a blacksmith on the left, miners on the right and the same portrait, as shown below, without a value on the back of each note. The notes were printed by the Milwaukee Lithographic and Engineering Company.

References list the Green Bay Mining Company becoming the Indiana Mine then The Bay State Mine. These names can be found in the Negaunee Range summaries. One note on the Allen Mine showed its location east of the Green Bay Mine. The following Bay State Mine comment could summarize the short existence and lack of notes:

“Considerable milling has been done on this location, but not much good ore obtained. The ore that was shipped in 1872, 1873, etc., was of a very low grade, a jasper hematite that could not now be sold at any price.”<sup>2</sup>

It must be reported that the $3 note is the only one of this set that has not been repaired. It may be hard to see the repairs in this black and white publication but trust this author that the repairs are evident.

The topic to repair obsolete notes has been debated for years and will continue past our lifetimes. There are a finite number of these notes in existence and someone cut up how many notes to do the minor matching repairs in three of the four notes displayed? Collecting purists would never do such a thing but, if these notes were the only time or chance you may ever have to own such a set, what would you do? Ah, the debate continues.

The $1 is repaired just right of the number in the lower left corner. The $2 has the upper right-hand corner and right side repaired. The upper right 5 was patched on the $5.

COLLECTING CIRCULATED FEDERAL RESERVE NOTE STAR'S

By Ken Kooistra

I started collecting stars about five years ago. I don't handle much currency and they were pretty scarce at first. Then my friends and relatives noticed that I would scrutinize all my change and they asked me what I was looking for. I explained to them what star notes were and they began to check their currency change as well. This took time as I had to convince them that they aren't worth more than face value in circulated condition. Everyone becomes suspicious when they know a collector is interested in obtaining something, especially money.

Now, not a week goes by that I don't pick up at least a few.

At first I collected all denominations, but then my wife complained that I had quite a bit of money tied up in my "stash." I started to collect and keep only $1 stars.

Two years ago Robert Azpiazu published "Collector's Guide to Modern Federal Reserve Notes Series 1963-2009." It was a great revelation, or as Lincoln said, "It caused one who sat in darkness to see a great light." It was key, as it showed the serial numbers of each printing, which in turn shows how scarce some star notes are.

Azpiazu has a listing of values for star notes, but only for notes in CU condition. FRN $1 small size circulated stars are, for nearly all notes, not worth more than face value. Check out eBay and the vast majority of auctions for circulated $1 stars go for not much more than face value or are unsold. Some sellers have uncirculated stars from early series, but they tend to sell them in multiples of two or more. They obviously come from packs of 100, and it's more cost efficient for the sellers to send them in multiples (eBay has a 09% sellers fee.)

My greatest find was a 1985 $100 star from the Kansas City district. I received it from a friend (in a bar, of all places.) It was truly remarkable, as it was in great condition – very crisp after all these years. I graded it as XF 45. Azpiazu listed it as $400 in CU. I sold it on eBay and guess what? It only went for $136, which demonstrates that circulated stars aren't worth a whole lot.

The key to collecting is setting up your spreadsheet. I use Excel. Here's part of my spreadsheet:

Date/series	Block	Serial		Quantity	Condition	Value	BEP
		low	high
2003A	B	B00000001	B00320000	320,000		$25	W
2003A	B	B32000001	B03520000	320,000		$25	W
2003A	B	B06400001	B09600000	3,200,000	B089...XF	$5	W
2003A	B	B09600001	B12800000	3,200,000	B109...VF	$5	W
2003A	C	C00000001	C03200000	3,200,000	C023...CU	$5	W

As you can see, I have a couple of “holes” in the B block of the 2003A series. Printings of 320,000 and 640,000 are scarce. Note the multiples of 32 as notes are printed in sheets of 32.

It's been great fun. Just last week a friend returned from a trip to Las Vegas and brought me back a 2009 from the B block, my first from this block. I was in heaven!

Ed. Note I just love it when collectors share their joy of collecting. It is all about the chase, the most fun is finding the note. How about sharing your fun with me? Ken submitted this article by Email. It isn't hard to share your fun...send me info about your finds.

FUN AT THE MICHIGAN STATE SHOW
by Bill Brandimore.

We had a lot of fun in Warren, Michigan at the Michigan State Show on Thanksgiving week end. I got to the show Friday morning about 10:00 AM, paid my dues and started looking for a 1924-S Buffalo Nickel I need to finish off my AU Buffalo Nickel set. No luck, but I did pick up a few notes. Keith Bauman sold me a Canadian charter small size Bank note I need along with a $10 Canadian Osprey bird note for my Canadian Bird Set. All I need now is the $1,000 note. I think I'll wait a while. While at Keith's table I talked with Tom Owens of Chesterfield Township. He had a neat 1914 Large Size Kansas City District FRN set, Red Seals from the $5 through the $100. A tough set to even find. I also met Riccee Vermuelen, of Rochester, Michigan. He owns the $1 1935 Mule Star Silver Certificate that's on our cover. It is the key note of his PMG ultimate Silver Certificate set that he was recently honored for in Bank Note Reporter. We had a good talk about how tough a note that is...only 6 have been graded so far and I'm still looking for one. I also chatted with a number of the Security Force at Macomb Community College, the site of the Show, as I knew a number of them from my days with the Detroit Police Department. I also enjoyed talking with Ann and Al Bobrofsky, long time friends from the MSNS. I also got a look at the exhibits...great! As it was a homecoming for President Karl Mark Paul, it was also a homecoming for me. I grew up about 5 miles away in East Detroit, now Eastpointe, and got an Associates in Arts degree from South Macomb Community College, the predecessor of Macomb College, in 1961.

There is plenty of room for Show expansion at this site and I expect MSNS to give serious consideration as a new home for the show. The show was crowded and the dealers I talked with seemed pleased with their sales.
